HISTORY OF 464 THROCKMORTON

- 1300 A.D. Early Indian civilization, ancestors of Coast Miwoks, settled in this area, which consisted of virgin redwood groves, grassy hills, marshes alive with birds and fishes and a few small Indian villages.
- 1850 California became a state.
- 1854 The land on which you are standing, part of the Mexican land grant of Rancho Sausalito, became the property of Samuel Throckmorton, a mining agent, as payment for a debt.
- 1883 Throckmorton died and the land passed to San Francisco Savings Union as payment for Throckmorton's own debts.
- 1889 Joseph Eastland, a civil engineer, developed Rancho Sausalito into a town which was then called Eastland.
- 1890 Eastland's population reached 900.
- 1902 Harvey Klyce, a local builder and later mayor of Mill Valley in 1937, built this house and its sister house next door (460 Throckmorton) for local twin sisters.
- 1904 Eastland was renamed Mill Valley after the lumber mill located in town.
- 1906 464 Throckmorton survived the earthquake with minimal damage. Mill Valley reached a population of 2,000.
- 1940's Dan Deedy, president of the Board of Realtors, purchased this house for his family, remodeling the breakfast room, the back bedrooms and adding the garage.
- 1962 The property was purchased by the Lewis family, who raised two generations here.
- 1989 Tom Schwarz and Debbie Ward purchased the property, landscaped, added the side deck and the gazebo, and redesigned the interior as you see it this afternoon.

Tom & Debbie currently have 464 Throckmorton for sale. Should the house sell as a result of this Garden Party, they will donate one half of one percent of the selling price to the San Francisco Winds of Freedom.
